

DEPARTMENT STORE INVENTORY COUNT

Case Study: Retail Inventory – Japanese Department Store

A Japanese department store needed experienced department store stocktakers to ensure reporting consistency across all departments and stores

DEPARTMENT STORE INVENTORY COUNT

Case Study: Retail Inventory – Japanese Department Store

A Japanese department store retailer based in Shinjuku, Tokyo required the support of RGIS. With branches throughout Japan and South East Asia, including in Bangkok, Jinan, Kuala Lumpur, Selangor, Shanghai, Singapore and Tianjin, and formerly in Hong Kong, Kaohsiung, London, and Vienna; providing ladies' clothing, men's clothing, cosmetics, children's goods, homeware, daily necessities, jewellery, groceries, toys, footwear, sports, stationery, kimono, art, wedding supplies and souvenirs.

REQUIREMENT

The department store needed experienced department store stocktakers to ensure reporting consistency across all departments and stores. The department store required RGIS to provide the following:

- RGIS auditors with retail experience
- Four department stores to be counted
- All departments to be included in the count, with reporting consistency
- No disruption to business, customers or staff

SOLUTION

The department store partnered with RGIS to complete the store stocktakes, and provided the following:

- Scheduled all counts out of hours
- Planned staffing by department
- Counted all items in each department for reporting consistency
- Provided reports of stock of all departments in each store

RESULTS

The department store found by outsourcing the stores stocktakes to RGIS, the following results were achieved:

- The accuracy of the stocktakes were improved from previous counts completed by another third party
- All departments were counted accurately in all four department stores

By partnering with RGIS, the department store found the accuracy of the stocktakes were improved while having no disruption to staff or customers

© 2020 RGIS.
All rights reserved. RGIS_CS_0125_01

Stock Count

Experienced Team

Accurate Reports

Out of Hours

CONTACT RGIS TODAY TO SEE HOW WE CAN HELP YOU

 salesUK@rgis.com

 +44 (0)1926 888 882

 www.rgis.co.uk

RGIS